Hello, World! Solar System

Synopsis

Hello, World! is a series designed to help parents introduce simple nonfiction concepts to their babies and toddlers. Now even the youngest children can enjoy learning about the world around them.Â Every young child loves to look up at the moon in the night sky. Now hereâ™s a book that can teach toddlers about the sun, moon, stars, and planetsâ”with colors, shapes, sizes, and super-simple facts (âœCan you point to the red planet? Thatâ™s Mars!â•).Â Told in simple terms and featuring bright, simple, cheerful illustrations, Hello, World! makes learning easy for young children. And each page offers helpful prompts for engaging with your child. Itâ™s a perfect way to bring natural science into the busy world of a toddler, where learning never stops.Â âœA cheerful introduction to outer space.â•”BooklistâœSupplemental tidbits (âœOuch! Asteroids and comets often hit this planet,â• [McDonald] writes about Mercury) offer additional details to pique the interest of children just hearing about Earthâ™s cosmic neighbors for the first time.â•”Publishers Weekly

This is a beautiful board book, with lovely painted illustrations. The age range is definitely more like 1-2 years old, though. Also, the book was pretty clearly written before Pluto was made, and only a minimal attempt was made to correct it -- each of the 8 planets has a page, and Pluto also has a page but it is called a dwarf planet. For an older toddler who knows that there are other dwarf planets, this can be frustrating or confusing.

This might be one of the most visually impressive board books I have ever seen. Beautiful, rich colors take your little ones through the solar system. I very highly recommend this one!

Baby loves the book! It's very colorful, and each planet has it's own page. Love there a science book for babies.

Love this book! My 22 month old can already pick out a few planets.

Great first book to teach the toddlers about the universe
